

Lauren Lucca – Destination Specialist

My name is Lauren Lucca and I just signed on with World Travel Specialists in 2018. I am originally from Long Island, New York and then became a University of Delaware and Wilmington University alum. I have an outgoing, friendly and adventurous personality and a strong passion for travel. By day, I am a middle school science and special education teacher and by night I hope to aid you in planning the perfect gateway!

Let me also explain how traveling has changed my life. Simply stated, travel has been my passion for more than 10 years! My first big vacation was a cross country trip when I was 15 in a camper with my aunts from New York to San Diego, which included stops to Mount Rushmore, Badlands National Park in South Dakota, Jackson Hole in Wyoming, and the Grand Canyon. This trip really sparked the flame of wanderlust inside me and helped me check off many of the 28 total states that I have visited. Since then I have been on road trips to Kentucky and Nashville, to New England, and up to Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada. Internationally, I have traveled to St Kitts in the Caribbean, England, France, Italy, Monaco, Ireland, and Northern Ireland. Most recently, I planned a family vacation to Italy. It was a pilgrimage for my mostly Italian family that we will never forget.

I look forward to helping you have experiences that you will never forget!
