

Wilisha McGoughy – Destination Specialist

My love for traveling began with my first trip out of the state to Chicago, it was also my first plane ride. I was in awe to see what I was seeing on television and in magazines. The sights and views captivated my attention. Soon as I returned home the travel bug had bitten me!

I love to go to different cities and see the people, culture, and food. Experiencing life is a beautiful hobby!! Soon others requested that I help them with their travel arrangements and the rest as they say is history! I have traveled to Washington D.C., Florida, and Illinois and I hope to expand this list greatly!!
